KleptoFit

Provides quality and exclusive fitness equipment that often suits in the interest of numerous item collectors, sport enthusiasts, athletes and even fitness influencers. Each item brings a challenge of their own. Our intention is to spread those durable products in popularity while maintaining a great user shipping experience.

The Website

Purpose

Our goal is to spread our products' popularity to become known worldwide. So far, you can find our products in several fitness centers, and we are more than happy to collaborate with many more. KleptoFit is all about showcasing the potential of new toys to the fitness scene to part away with traditional barbell gym equipment standards.

Target Audience

If fitness was already a passion of yours, KleptoFit might be your piece of cake as we focus on providing equipment serving from moderate to elite fitness levels. Although our website is targeting mostly people who train, other people could pique interest too. For instance, collectors like to gather the most exclusive items they can put their hands on, influencers love challenging people with the most absurd toys on the web and friend groups often like to compete in specialized strength aspects. For KleptoFit, everybody counts.

LOGO

Made the one on the right in Photoshop, but it didn't suit for a webpage icon. (icon of a rat holding a dumbbell in its mouth)
